

BLS for Healthcare Provider

This course teaches the CPR skills of BLS for victims of all ages, use of an AED for adults and children, and relief of foreign body airway obstruction. This course is intended for participants who work in a healthcare setting (doctors, nurses, paramedics, EMTs, respiratory therapists). A course completion E-card is issued for all participants who successfully complete the written examination and skills demonstration.

The American Heart Association strongly promotes knowledge and proficiency in all AHA courses and has developed instructional material for this purpose. Use of these materials in an educational course does not represent course sponsorship by the AHA. Any fees charged for such a course, except for a portion of fees needed for AHA course materials, do not represent income to the AHA.

BLS Instructor Course

This course is designed for those who wish to teach the following American Heart Association (AHA) courses: Basic Life Support (BLS), Heartsaver CPR/AED, and/or Heartsaver First Aid. Prior to the course, candidates will be given access to the required AHA On-line Essentials Course upon acceptance. During the two-day course, Training Center Faculty will present the science of CPR and AED, equipment maintenance and decontamination, as well as strategies for teaching and conducting a course. Each candidate will have the opportunity to practice teaching a skill and a topic to fellow candidates.

Prerequisite for Inst. Course:

Interested candidates must be current on their AHA BLS Provider certification. Candidates must also have prior approval from the Northern Arizona Healthcare AHA Training Center Coordinator to register for the class. All candidates accepted into this course are expected to know the student manual very well, and be able to perform BLS skills proficiently on arrival to the course.
